

Reasons We Love 2322 Carnegie Lane, Redondo Beach

-Great Value for size and quality - There aren't a lot of comparably sized places in the area with an open layout, large bedrooms with ample closet space, and quality finishes. The reverse floor plan allows ample light into the living space as well as beautiful views of the California sunsets from the large west-facing window. The home also has a fenced yard which is great for our dogs while not being too much maintenance.

-Location --- The location allows easy access to the freeway to get to work (Downtown and Century City) while also being close to the beach and restaurants in Manhattan Beach and Hermosa Beach. It is also near the shopping center around the South Bay Galleria as well as an easy drive to Plaza El Segundo and Torrance. We also enjoy the walking trail near our home for walking the dogs and morning runs.
