

Staci Munic

Staci, CID and ASID Affiliate, is a member of the Palm Springs Modernism Committee. An active member in the River North Design District in Chicago, Staci is a monthly contributor to its blog. Staci Munic Interiors has been featured on Houzz TV Live, on Houzz Magazine, and Staci's home was featured in Palm Springs Modernism Week in 2019 and 2020. Living in both Chicago and Palm Springs, she decided to make Palm Springs her primary residence this past spring. Having a background in the hospitality and culinary business, in 2019 Staci was selected to serve on Monogram's Design Council.

Staci comes to interior design with a unique perspective, including a diverse professional background. She is an entrepreneur and an educator. Staci is bilingual and not only has her undergraduate degree in business and a master's degree in education, but she is also studying neuroaesthetics and real estate. Staci has grit, she is committed to community, and has built her business from the ground up. She's not just about the pretty, though she's good at it, she strives to create spaces that have health and wellness top of mind, and is an expert at envisioning the invisible and reinventing homes, honoring their architecture and history, while adapting them to the lifestyles of their owners, unique to them, while being designed to endure decades. Staci is effervescent, has a smile that lights up a room, and an ability to make you feel relaxed embodied in a luxurious, fun environment. Her interiors reflect her joyful essence.
