Full Description

Owned Solar | 5 Bed | 3 full Bath | Loft | First level bed & full bath | New carpet | Upgraded flooring | Quiet Cool whole house fan | All second level bedrooms are generously sized | Beautiful Backyard | Directly across from the main park.

Owned solar enhances efficiency in this spacious and thoughtfully upgraded 5-bedroom, 3 full bath home located in the desirable Rancho Santalina neighborhood. A highly functional floor plan features a first-level bedroom & full bathroom—ideal for guests or multigenerational living—complete with new carpet, crown molding, and a walk-in closet.

Upstairs, generously sized secondary bedrooms—three with walk-in closets—surround a versatile loft space perfect for a home office, study area, or flex use. The oversized primary suite offers brand-new carpet, crown molding & mountain views, while the en-suite bath includes dual sinks with separate mirrors, tile flooring, a walk-in shower, separate soaking tub and spacious walk-in closet.

The kitchen showcases granite countertops with matching backsplash, crown molding, track lighting, upgraded flooring, and a walk-in pantry. Living spaces include a formal living & dining area with crown molding and upgraded flooring, as well as a welcoming family room also enhanced with crown molding. Additional interior highlights include a second-level laundry room with upper cabinetry, an Ecobee smart thermostat, QuietCool whole-house fan, extended hallway storage, and an under-stair storage area. Brand-new carpet was installed throughout in April 2026, and the exterior was freshly painted in 2025.

The backyard is designed for relaxation & entertaining, featuring extensive paver work that extends to the driveway around one side, retaining wall, fire pit with seating area, and mature palm trees. The garage includes a ceiling-mounted storage rack for added convenience.

Residents enjoy direct access to the newly developed Inland Rail Trail, which will ultimately connect Escondido to Oceanside. The community also offers multiple recreational spaces, including a tot lot, dog park, and a larger park with play structures, basketball court, and picnic areas. Located within the highly regarded San Marcos Unified School District, including top-rated San Marcos High School, and just minutes from freeways, shopping & dining.
