Procedures to Accompany the Restrictive Covenant Modification Form

The law prohibits unlawfully restrictive covenants based upon:

“...age, race, color, religion, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, familial status, marital status, disability, veteran or military status, genetic information, national origin, source of income as defined in subdivision (p) of Section 12955, or ancestry... Lawful restrictions under state and federal law on the age of occupants in senior housing or housing for older persons shall not be construed as restrictions based on familial status.”

As the individual holding or acquiring an interest in the property, you may have any unlawfully restrictive covenants “removed”, which means “redacted.”

To have the unlawfully restrictive covenant removed, you may prepare and submit to the county recorder’s office, a “Restrictive Covenant Modification” form (RCM) together with a copy of the attached document with the unlawfully restrictive covenant redacted. This request must be submitted to the county recorder’s office and must include your return address so the county recorder can notify you of the action taken by the county counsel.

The process at the county recorder’s office is as follows:

- The county recorder takes the RCM with the redacted document and the original document attached and submits it to the county counsel for review to determine if, from a legal standpoint, the language was an unlawfully restrictive covenant and thus the redacted version should be indexed and recorded.
- The county counsel shall inform the county recorder of his/her determination within a reasonable amount of time, not to exceed three months from the date of your request.
- If county counsel determined that the redacted language was unlawful then, once recorded, the redacted document is the only one that effects the property and this modified document has the same effective date as the original document.
- If county counsel determined that the redacted language was not unlawful then county counsel will return the RCM package to the county recorder and the county recorder will advise the requestor that same the request has been denied and the redacted document has not been recorded.
- The modification document shall be indexed in the same manner as the original document and shall contain a recording reference to the original document.
