SECTION 2. Best Management Practices

The goal of stormwater and discharge control management planning while drilling and installing wells is to reduce pollution to the maximum extent practicable using Best Management Practices (BMPs). Construction related materials, sediments, chemical residues such as drilling foam, wastes, and spills must be retained within the property boundaries to eliminate transport from the site to nearby streets, drainage courses, receiving waters and adjacent properties. It is the responsibility of the property owner and the contractor to determine which BMPs will be used in order to ensure that all contaminants are retained on-site.

Examples of Best Management Practices to contain well installation run-off include, but are not limited to, installation of a sediment basin to contain run-off, using geotextile fabric to contain sediments and drilling mud, or eliminating the use of drilling foam. (Website information is available at www.projectcleanwater.org)

SECTION 3. Certification

I have read and understand the following: (Please check each box after concurrence.)

- Selected BMP's will be implemented so that water quality is not negatively impacted by well construction activities.
- I am aware the selected BMP's must be installed, maintained, monitored and revised as necessary so they are effective.
- I understand that non-compliance with the San Diego County Watershed Protection Ordinance may result in enforcement actions by the County. These may include fines, citations, stop-work orders, or other actions.
- DEH inspectors and personnel from other regulatory agencies are authorized to enter my property at any time for purposes associated with this well permit until such time the well is completed to the satisfaction of DEH.
- Should DEH determine during the field review that the well installation procedures contradict this Discharge Management Plan or the well permit application, the well drilling permit may be suspended or revoked. Further activity will require a new permit fee and amendment to the existing permit.
